MOTION OF UBS SECURITIES, LLC TO WITHDRAW THE REFERENCE

UBS Securities, LLC (“UBS”) hereby moves the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois (“District Court”) for entry of an order withdrawing the reference with respect to this adversary proceeding from the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois (the “Bankruptcy Court”) to the District Court. In support thereof, UBS respectfully states as follows:

1. The Trustee commenced the above-captioned Adversary Proceeding on June 24, 2009 (“UBS Adversary”). UBS filed its Answer to the Complaint on August 21, 2009.

2. In 2008, the Trustee commenced adversary proceedings (collectively, together with this adversary proceeding, the “Seg 1 Cases”) against fourteen other similarly situated defendants (collectively, together with UBS, the “Seg 1 Defendants” or “Seg 1 FCMs”).

3. In the UBS Adversary the Trustee is seeking to recover an allegedly fraudulent conveyance pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 548. In each of the other Seg 1 cases the Trustee is seeking to recover allegedly preferential transfers pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 547 and allegedly unauthorized post petition transfers pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 549. Regardless of whether the Trustee is seeking to recover an alleged preference, fraudulent conveyance or unauthorized post-petition transfer, in each and every Seg 1 Case the court will have to determine whether the transfer the Trustee is seeking to recover constitutes a transfer of property of the Debtor’s estate.

4. Withdrawal of the reference from the Bankruptcy Court is mandatory under 28 U.S.C. § 157(d) because the UBS Adversary, similar to each other Seg 1 Case, requires the consideration of open and unresolved issues regarding the interpretation and implementation of Federal, non-bankruptcy securities and commodities law. Specifically, a pivotal issue raised by the complaint filed by the Trustee in each Seg 1 Case, the ownership of customer funds, will be determined based upon the interpretation and implementation of the Commodity Exchange Act, 7 U.S.C. §§1 to 27f et seq. (the “CEA”), and the rules and regulations of the Commodities Futures Trading Commission (“CFTC”), 17 C.P.R. §§ 1.10 to 190.10 et seq.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> In each of the Seg 1 Cases, the applicable Seg 1 Defendant moved to withdraw the reference. Through an order of the District Court’s Executive Committee, each Seg 1 Case was found to be related to an action pending before the Honorable James B. Zagel, namely, Grede v. The Bank of New York, Docket No. 08 C 2582 (the “BONY Case”). Consequently, each of the Seg 1 Cases was assigned to Judge Zagel under the BONY Case. A copy of the Executive Committee’s Orders dated February 20, 2009 and July 17, 2009 are attached hereto as Exhibit 1.

5. The Seg 1 Defendants, including UBS, are futures commission merchants (“FCM”) registered with the CFTC. Generally, an FCM is a broker that trades futures contracts for its customers. Customers deposit cash or securities with their FCM broker to serve as margin for the customers’ trades. Pursuant to section 6d of the CEA, and the rules and regulations of the CFTC, property deposited by customers with an FCM is the property of the customer that deposited the funds and must be kept segregated from the FCM’s own property in a customer segregated account. See 7 U.S.C. §§ 6d(a)(2) 6d(b); 17 C.F.R. §§ 1.3(gg), 1.25 and 1.26(a). Sentinel Management Group, Inc., the above captioned debtor (“Sentinel” or the “Debtor”), was registered with the CFTC as an FCM but did not act as a broker for futures contracts. Rather, as a registered FCM, the Debtor was eligible to hold and invest the customer segregated margin deposits for other FCMs.

6. The key issue that must be settled in the Seg 1 Cases, the ownership of customer funds transferred by Sentinel, will turn on the interpretation and application of the CEA and related CFTC regulations. Specifically, resolution of the Seg 1 Cases will require the resolution of two issues of apparent first impression, both of which require withdrawal of the reference: (i) whether section 6d of the CEA and the related CFTC regulations create a statutory trust with respect to margin funds deposited by customers of FCMs such that customers' deposits are not property of a bankrupt FCM or related depository, and (ii) whether, under section 6d of the CEA and CFTC Rule 1.20, a transfer of property to a customer segregated account maintained by an FCM to hold its customers' margin deposits is a transfer of property to the FCM itself.

7. The Seg 1 Defendants are aware of no law interpreting the CEA and CFTC regulations in the context of a bankruptcy adversary proceeding or other action to determine property of the estate. Therefore, withdrawal of the reference is mandatory because the Seg 1 Cases require the consideration of open and unresolved issues of Federal, non-bankruptcy law.

8. Alternatively, the District Court should exercise its discretion to withdraw the reference "for cause shown" because of the risk of inconsistent judgments with another adversary proceeding originally brought in Sentinel's bankruptcy case which has already been withdrawn to the District Court: Grede v. The Bank of New York et al., 08-A-00127 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. March 3, 2008). That adversary proceeding involves the exact same legal questions and transactions at issue in the Seg 1 Cases, namely whether transfers made to the Seg 1 Defendants were customer property, or property of Sentinel's bankruptcy estate. Given the similarity of the issues and facts, and the inevitable overlap in discovery, judicial economy favors discretionary withdrawal of the reference. The District Court has also withdrawn the reference in another related proceeding, Grede v. McGladrey & Pullen LLP et al., 08 A 00167 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. March 20, 2008) which involves issues related to the Seg 1 Cases. Due to the District Court's familiarity with the issues in those related proceedings, which involve the same transactions at issue in this adversary proceeding, the risk of inconsistent judgments, and judicial economy, the District Court should exercise its discretion to withdraw the reference for cause.

9. This risk of inconsistent judgments is very significant and a recent hearing before the Bankruptcy Court demonstrates that the risk is very real. The District Court (Zagel, J.) recently ruled in the BONY Case that the Trustee does not have standing to assert claims assigned to him by certain Sentinel customers (the "Settling Customers") pursuant to Sentinel's Fourth Amended Plan of Liquidation (the "Plan"). See Grede v. The Bank of New York et al., 2009 WL 2244605 *6 (N.D. Ill July 28, 2009). Addressing the exact same issue in the Seg 1 Cases, Judge Squires in the Bankruptcy Court declined to follow Judge Zagel's ruling and held that the Trustee does have standing to bring claims assigned to him by the Settling Customers under the Plan. See Transcript of Proceedings Before the Honorable John H. Squires in Case No. 07 B 14987, dated September 1, 2009, at pp 5-6, a copy of which is attached to UBS's Memorandum in Support as Exhibit B.

10. At this stage in the litigation of these related cases, we now have rulings on the same issue that are directly contrary. The Bankruptcy Court's contrary ruling will now require the defendants in the Seg 1 Cases to expend additional time and effort defending claims the District Court dismissed on standing grounds. Allowing two courts to address the same legal and factual issues will lead to more inconsistent rulings that will prejudice the litigants.

11. In addition, the District Court should withdraw the reference to the Bankruptcy Court because UBS is entitled to a jury trial and has not consented to the conduct of such trial by the Bankruptcy Court. If a party has the right to a jury trial and does not consent to a jury trial before the bankruptcy judge, cause for withdrawal exists.

12. In further support of its motion to withdraw the reference, UBS has filed a Memorandum of Law in support of its motion to withdraw the reference. The memorandum is substantially similar to the memorandum filed by the other Seg 1 Defendants.

WHEREFORE, UBS respectfully requests that the District Court enter an Order withdrawing the reference of this action from the Bankruptcy Court and granting such additional relief as the District Court deems just or appropriate.

Dated: September 18, 2009
